

SOUTHERN TEXAS SECTION

Kevin J. Scott is an experienced AI engineer who has served as the Chief Technology Officer and CIO at PGA of America for the past 8 years. He's led the transformation of the organization's tech, digital, product, and IT areas. He created PGA's first two consumer digital products and transformed siloed IT and Digital organizations into a customer-centric, product-minded organization.

Prior to his role at the PGA of America, Kevin worked at ESPN and Nokia, holding various leadership positions across mobile, digital, and innovation. He led the creation of ESPN's streaming, interactive, social, and digital products. He also advises and serves on the boards of several technology and philanthropic organizations.

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/thatkevinjscott>